

Adrian England

Campaigner for Apsley, Boxmoor and the Town Centre adrian@hplibdems.org.uk

I'm Adrian England, campaigning for fellow Hemel residents and I hope, following the elections expected next year, to be able to speak for you - from you - on the Council that spends nearly 80% of your Council Tax, Hertfordshire County Council, as your new County Councillor.

What motivates me to help people?

Parts of Apsley are amongst the worst affected air quality areas in the Town. Boxmoor is pivotal to improvements needed in transport connections linking the town with places of work, rail stations, health services and places for leisure. By improving "active transport" we can ease parking problems.

So, a little bit about me

I currently work with the East of England Ambulance Service Trust helping them with their communications and have previously worked for a Housing Association as well as volunteering with a group for fathers with their children. This I do alongside helping residents as a Borough councillor on Dacorum Council (the more "visible" Council - but it spends only about 10% of your Council Tax). You might have met me on the doorstep campaigning for my Lib Dem colleagues. However Covid19 means we need to be resident-led about knocking on doors, so as much as I would like to chat with residents in all 6,300 homes in this electoral area, I like everyone else, believe that is for another day. I want to hear from you, that is how I operate. Please contact me adrian@hplibdems.org.uk

Best regards
